

Rendering your products and creating Jpeg files

Many customers have asked how they can render products to use them on the web, in brochures, slide shows and as emails to customers.

ROES has a Render feature that allows you to create Jpeg thumbnails of your order items prior to actually placing an order! Here is how it works:

Select the product you want to create.

Drag the image into the product and crop it as necessary. Include any options to the product that you desire and click on Add to Order. Create as many products as you want, adding each product to the order.

Click on the Review Order button.

Click on the Render button.

An information box will appear indicating "Before viewing the rendered products, please select a folder in which to save the product images. Note that existing files in this directory may be overwritten".

Click Continue. Select the location where you want to save the files (e.g.: Desktop) and optionally click on the New Folder button to create and name a folder into which the images will be rendered. Click Open.

Give it a minute, and the ROES Presenter will launch to display your rendered products. Simultaneously, your product Jpeg thumbnails will be saved to the folder you created.

If you want to save the order for future use or transmission, close the Presenter and click on the review order screen Back button. Click on Open and Save and select Save an Incomplete Order. You can always reopen the incomplete order by clicking on Open and Save and selecting Open an Incomplete Order.
